Use the grid references on the map to help you find a tree out in the park.

Please note:

Whilst a reliable guide to the vicinity, the numbers on the map may not be indicative of a tree's exact position and/or its relationship to its neighbours because of the need sometimes to spread them about so that they would not obscure each other. Fortunately many trees are labelled in the field.

This map is updated to July 2014. More trees have been planted since. Some may have died.
